DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/15/2007 has been entered.
2. Claims 7-15 and 17-25 are pending. Claims 1-6, 16 and 26 are cancelled. Claim 1 is amended.
3. Claims 7-15 and 17-25 stand rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Kojima et al. (US Patent 4654255).
4. Claims 7-15 and 17-25 stand rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as obvious over Kojima et al. (US Patent 4654255)

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 10/15/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant contends that the Kojima reference teaches a copolymer or terpolymer composition which contains additional monomers to the "ethylenically unsaturated monomers" of the Kojima polymer. Applicants contend that the amendment limiting the polymer to "consisting essentially of" a crystalline acrylic polymer with an alkyl group of 18 carbons or more renders the rejections over Kojima moot.

The Examiner respectfully disagrees with the above arguments. The Examiner notes that while the Kojima reference does teach the additional monomers comprising the polymer of Kojima, Applicant has not clearly illustrated on the record how the presence of the additional monomers in the polymer would affect the basic and novel characteristics of the claimed composition.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 7-9,15,17-19 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tatsuo et al. (JP 2002-308919).

Tatsuo teaches an adhesive acrylic resin composition which is comprised of an acrylate monomer, a drying oil, organic peroxide and an accelerator which can be sandwiched between two release layers (Abstract). The reference shows that the acrylate monomer can be stearyl methacrylate (pg. 2, para. 0013 of the machine translation). Examiner notes that the machine translation provided with this action has not properly translated the name of a monomer due a typographical error in the original patent document. However, this acrylate monomer has been confirmed to be present by STIC Translation Services at the Patent Office. The composition can further be made thermally conductive by the addition of thermally conductive filler with examples given on pg. 3, para. 0026 of the machine translation.
